What if you were able to choose how the story was to end? What choices would you make? Do you use the Killaton and end the world, or use the Time Machine and save it? Meanwhile follows Jimmy as he makes everyday decisions that will affect the world, and the story.

It all starts on page one with a simple choice, Vanilla or Chocolate. If you choose Vanilla the story ends with you going home and everyone is safe. Lame! If you choose Chocolate the story continues. But with this simple choice comes many others. Will you make it to a safe ending, or destroy the world once again?
